DRMA to hold MFG Day Shoptalk at UNITED GRINDING

DAYTON, OHIO – The Dayton Region Manufacturers Association (DRMA) is hosting its MFG Day Shoptalk at UNITED GRINDING on Thursday, May 12, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. UNITED GRINDING is located at 2100 United Grinding Boulevard, Miamisburg, OH 45342.

DRMA Shoptalk allows members to get together for a little “overtime” after work and enjoy the casual atmosphere while learning something new and networking with other DRMA members. This event features a celebration of DRMA’s workforce initiatives, from MFG Day to career events, and all that DRMA does to continuously expose students to the great careers in manufacturing. Awards will be presented to member companies who support DRMA’s career awareness initiatives.

All of this will follow a MFG Day open house held at UNITED GRINDING earlier in the day. 200 students from seven schools will participate in the event, learning about high tech, high paying careers in manufacturing.

Following the program, networking festivities will begin with cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, and socializing with DRMA members.

Registration and more information can be found here.

Cost to attend:

$25/person - member companies

*$50/person - non-member companies

*Non-members can attend one DRMA event; after which DRMA membership is required

The Dayton Region Manufacturers Association (DRMA) is the voice and advocate for the manufacturing industry in the Dayton Region, providing programming, education, and peer-to-peer connectivity opportunities for members serving the aerospace, agricultural, medical, construction, defense and other markets.
