DAYTON REGION MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION RELEASES 2022 REGIONAL MANUFACTURING DATA

DAYTON, OHIO -- The Dayton Region Manufacturers Association (DRMA) has released its 2022 update on the impact of the manufacturing industry within the Dayton Region.

The Dayton, Ohio, region's manufacturing industry is one of the largest, most highly developed centers in the United States. The unique and compelling nature of the industry is a result of cutting-edge technology, sophisticated processes, and a highly skilled workforce. Supported by the region's 40 colleges and universities, abundant water and transportation resources, and an incredible knack for innovation, manufacturing is one of the most significant contributors to economic development in the region. Dayton-area manufacturing is globally competitive for businesses entering or expanding in the region.

"We have seen significant growth in manufacturing in the Dayton Region over the past several years," said DRMA President Angelia Erbaugh. "The industry is trending up in terms of annual payroll, number of expanding and new facilities, jobs created, gross regional product, and investments in the region. Manufacturing remains as strong as ever in the Dayton Region."

Additionally, Erbaugh said, "The Manufacturing Impact on the Dayton Region study reinforces the region's manufacturing industry as one of the largest, most highly developed centers in the United States. DRMA and its 350 members are proud to be a driving force behind the region's recent growth in the number manufacturing companies, employees, and payroll as well as being a vital contributor to the vitality of our economy."
